Report on event "Clinical research"

A One-day Seminar on "Clinical research" has been organized by the Department of Pharmacy, Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Guntapally on 10-08-2022. Dr. Hari Kiran Clinical Research Associate at Novo Nordisk has discussed regarding Clinical research. Students got awareness on Clinical research: Clinical research is an extensive investigation into the efficacy and safety of the most innovative developments in patient care. Laboratory research is not the same as clinical research. It involves those who give of their time to advance our knowledge of health and medicine. Although it enables us to identify novel concepts that may benefit people, most lab research does not include human participants. In clinical research studies, volunteers were employed to evaluate almost every medication, tool, diagnostic test, procedure, and piece of technology utilized in medicine today.

Report on event “Research on Cardiovascular drugs”

A One-day Seminar on “Research on Cardiovascular drugs” has been organized by the Department of Pharmacy, Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Guntapally, 26-08-2022, Dr.S.Nagarjuna, Co-ordinator for Hyderabad Academy has discussed regarding Research on Cardiovascular drugs. Since 1900, cardiovascular disease has been the leading cause of mortality each year, with the exception of the 1916 influenza outbreak. However, there haven't been many new players in the pharmaceutical industry. In the US, one novel cardiovascular drug was introduced to the market in 2008. There were two novel cardiovascular drugs introduced in 2009. By contrast, in 2009 there were seven novel cancer medications. This review examines novel compounds in the framework of models that are presently being developed for pharmaceutical use. Naturally, there's no assurance that any of these representatives will be promoted. An examination of the models serves as an example of the different methods being employed to create novel cardiovascular medications.

Report on event “Stereochemistry of organic compounds and Its involvement in drug research”

A One-day Seminar on “Stereochemistry of organic compounds and Its involvement in drug research” has been organized by the Department of Pharmacy, Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Gunthapally on 22-09-2022. Dr. Lalitha Devi, Associate Professor, Pulla Reddy College of Pharmacy has discussed about Stereochemistry of organic compounds and Its involvement in drug research. Students got awareness on Stereochemistry of organic compounds and Its involvement in drug research; Medical professionals are beginning to recognize the significance of stereochemistry in drug action, and in order to make wise decisions about the administration of single-enantiomer medications, they will need to have a fundamental understanding of the topic. Nowadays, a large number of medications utilized in psychiatric medicine contain enantiomer combinations. When it comes to certain treatments, single-enantiomer formulations may offer better pharmacokinetics, enhanced therapeutic indices, and/or higher selectivities for their biological targets than mixtures of enantiomers. The nomenclature used to describe stereochemistry and enantiomers is reviewed in this article, along with the potential biological and pharmacologic differences between a drug's two enantiomers and the clinical experience with single enantiomers of selective serotonin reuptake inhibitors like citalopram and fluoxetine.

Report on event “Combinatorial synthesis and its research”

A One-day Seminar on “Combinatorial synthesis and its research” has been organized by the Department of Pharmacy, Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Gunthapally on 09-11-2022. R. Ramakrishna, Assistant Professor, Guru Nanak College of Pharmacy has discussed about Combinatorial synthesis and its research. Students got awareness on Combinatorial synthesis and its research; A recently developed paradigm in research methods called combinatorial synthesis seeks to significantly boost the rate at which novel materials are found and enhanced. This method enables a quick survey of huge materials phase spaces by synthesizing, processing, and screening up to thousands of compositionally variable samples in a single experiment.

Report on event: “Drug research using Rational drug design”

A One-day Seminar on “Drug research using Rational drug design” has been organized by the Department of Pharmacy, Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Gunthapally on 29-03-2023. MS. Pydi Geetha Bhavani, Associate Professor, Vikas Institute of Pharmaceutical sciences has discussed regarding “Drug research using Rational drug design”. Students got awareness on “Drug research using Rational drug design”. The drug is most commonly an organic small molecule that activates or inhibits the function of a biomolecular such as a protein, which in turn results in therapeutic benefits to the patient. In the most basic sense, drug involves the design of molecules that are complementary in shape and charge to the biomolecular target with which they interact and therefore will bind to it. Drug design frequently but not necessarily relies on computer modeling techniques.
